

131 Officers Promoted to the Rank of Lieutenant of the 201st Course “ESEMPIO”

Published on 21/03/2024

131 Officers of the 201st Course "Esempio" have marked an important step forward in their military careers, obtaining the rank of Lieutenant in a ceremony held at the Palazzo Arsenale, headquarters of the Training Command and School of Application. The ceremony marked the conclusion of a rigorous training path and the transition to new responsibilities.

General of the Army Corps Paratrooper Stefano Mannino attended the event, offering the new Lieutenants some reflections on their professional future, highlighting the importance of their role and the increasing responsibilities they will have to assume, emphasizing the need for constant commitment to the personnel entrusted to them and to the institutions they represent.

The training received at the School of Application in Turin was intense and comprehensive, integrating military training with advanced academic studies. After successfully completing five years of basic training, the Lieutenants are now ready to receive their master's degree in July and to be assigned to various operational units of the Army.

The School of Application, in addition to confirming itself as a reference point in the field of military training, also proves to be an environment where dedication to study, openness to new teaching methodologies, and the internationalization of the country's future military leaders are valued.

Photo and Copyright Italian Army