

The podcast DEBRIEFING TALKS – STORIES OF SOLDIERS is born

Published on 14/10/2025

Behind every mission are men, decisions, and sacrifices that are rarely told.
From this awareness comes DEBRIEFING TALKS – Stories of Soldiers, the new podcast created by DifesaNews.com in collaboration with BrigataFolgore.net.

A project that gives voice to those who were really there

Through interviews, analysis, and authentic stories, DEBRIEFING TALKS brings listeners the most human dimension of the military world: one made of training, camaraderie, fear, courage, and difficult choices.

Each episode is a debriefing — a moment of reflection, where those who have firsthand experience share what it truly means to "be there," far from official narratives.

The podcast aims to offer a direct and sincere perspective on what happens behind the daily life of a soldier.

> We don't talk about war, but about men. About their stories, their discipline, the values, and the moments that have marked them forever.

Already available on YouTube (also in Music version), in the Podcast section of DIFESANEWS.COM, on Spotify and, soon, on Apple Podcasts (iTunes), DEBRIEFING TALKS – Stories of Soldiers inaugurates a new way of telling the military world: authentic, respectful, and passionate.

First episode: From Folgore to Col Moschin, we interviewed Luca Fois, the Total Soldier

In this first episode of DEBRIEFING TALKS, Luca Fois tells what drove him to enlist, the challenges that led him to the Special Forces, and the evolution he experienced over time — both in training and technology — within the Italian elite units.

Enlisted in the early 2000s, he first served as a Paratrooper in the 186th Regiment "Folgore" , then moved to the 185th RAO Regiment as a Target Acquirer and, subsequently, to the 9th Regiment Col Moschin as an Incursor. Among camaraderie, esprit de corps, and determination, Fois embodies the values that truly define a man in uniform.

After voluntary discharge, he chooses a new challenge: the mountain.

Today he pursues new records, carrying with him the same spirit that guided him in service.

Also on Spotify: